

God's Own Language
Architectural Drawing in the Twelfth Century

Karl Kinsella

THE MIT PRESS
Cambridge, Massachusetts . London, England

1	Noah's Ark in Twelfth-Century Paris	1
2	Richard and the Abbey of Saint Victor	31
3	The First Plans	45
4	The Gatehouse	69
5	The Slope of Ezekiel's Mountain and the Language of Architecture	107
6	The Temple Precinct	139
7	The Map of the Promised Land and Jewish Exegesis	167
	Afterword	183
	Acknowledgments	189
	Manuscripts	191
	Notes	193
	Bibliography	211
	Index	225