

Introduction to Buddhist East Asia

Edited by

ROBERT H. SCOTT AND JAMES McRAE

SUNY PRESS

Contents

Foreword	xi
Peter D. Hershock
Acknowledgments	xiii
Introduction to Buddhist East Asia: Origins, Core Doctrines, Transmission, and Schools	1
Robert H. Scott and James McRae
Part 1: Creative Pedagogies for Teaching Buddhist East Asia
Chapter 1
Three Common Misconceptions about East Asian Buddhisms: On Women and Gender, Violence and Nonviolence, and Philosophy and Religion	35
Sarah A. Mattice
Chapter 2
“Meditation Is the Embodiment of Wisdom”: Chan and Zen Buddhism in the Philosophy Classroom	69
Elizabeth Schiltz
Chapter 3
The Possibility and Costs of Responsibly Teaching East Asian and Buddhist Philosophy	87
Mark Wells

Chapter 4

Brains, Blades, and Buddhists: Pedagogical Skirmishes at the Intersection of Philosophy of Mind, the Way of the Sword, and Buddhism 101

Jesús Ilundáin-Agurruza

Chapter 5

Revitalizing the Familiar: A Practical Application of Dōgen's Transformative Zen 131

George Wrisley

Part 2: East Asian Buddhisms and the Humanities:
Ethics, Art, and Politics

Chapter 6

The Finger that Points to the Earth: East Asian Buddhism as a Conceptual Resource for Environmental Philosophy 161

James McRae

Chapter 7

Ecological Self-understanding in Chinese Buddhism: Investigating an Epistemic Virtue 189

Jesse Butler

Chapter 8

Wisdom and Compassion in Chinul, Korean Seon Buddhism, and Postmodern Ethics 213

Robert H. Scott

Chapter 9

The Lovelorn Lady and the Stony Monk: Women, Sexuality, and Imagination in the Kegon Engi Emaki 237

Sujung Kim

Chapter 10

The Spirit of Shaolin on Screen: Buddhism and Cultural Politics in Chinese Cinema 255

Melissa Croteau and Xin Zhang

Chapter 11
A Century of Critical Buddhism in Japan James Mark Shields	281
Glossary of East Asian Buddhist Terms	305
List of Contributors	313
Index	317