

PALMYRA AND THE EAST

Edited by

Kenneth Lapatin
and Rubina Raja

BREPOLS

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations.....	vii
List of Abbreviations.....	xiii
Introduction — Palmyra and the East: Reassessing an Oasis City and its Cultural Relations KENNETH LAPATIN and RUBINA RAJA	xv
 Part I. Language, History, and Trade
1. Language as Power: Aramaic at (and East of) Palmyra CATHERINE E. BONESHÖ.....	3
2. Palmyra's Maritime Trade KATIA SCHÖRLE	23
3. From Palmyra to India: How the East Was Won JEAN-BAPTISTE YON	29
4. Palmyra and the Sasanians in the Third Century AD TOURAJ DARYAEE.....	39
5. Zenobia and the East NATHANAEL J. ANDRADE	45
6. The Fate of Palmyra and the East after AD 273: A Few Remarks on Trade, Economy, and Connectivity in Late Antiquity and the Early Islamic Period EMANUELE E. INTAGLIATA	59

Part II. Art and Archaeology

7. Palmyrene Funerary Art between East and West: Reclining Women in Funerary Sculpture RUBINA RAJA.....	71
8. Ashurbanipal and the Reclining Banqueter in Palmyra MAURA K. HEYN.....	97
9. So-Called 'Servants' or 'Pages' in Palmyrene Funerary Sculpture FRED ALBERTSON.....	109
10. Notes on Some Palmyrene Religious Imagery TED KAIZER.....	127
11. A Palmyrene Child at Dura-Europos LISA R. BRODY.....	139
12. Edessa and the Sculpture of Greater North Mesopotamia in the Romano-Parthian Period MICHAEL BLÖMER.....	155
Index.....	179

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

1. Language as Power: Aramaic at (and East of) Palmyra — Catherine E. Bonesho

- Figure 1.1. Distribution of Palmyrene Aramaic inscriptions according to PAT..... 4
- Figure 1.2. Close-up of distribution of Palmyrene Aramaic inscriptions in the Ancient Near East. 6
- Figure 1.3. The Palmyrian Tariff (PAT 0259). Panels one and two of the Tariff Inscription. Palmyra. 137. Marble. Inv. no. DV-4187..... 12
- Figure 1.4. PAT 1097–98: relief with Palmyrene Aramaic inscriptions from the Temple of Gadde in Dura-Europos. 14
- Figure 1.5. PAT 1089: relief with Palmyrene Aramaic and Greek visually parallel inscriptions from the Temple of Zeus Kyrios in Dura-Europos..... 15
- Figure 1.6. PAT 1085: bilingual Greek and Palmyrene Aramaic inscription from the Mithraeum of Dura-Europos with visually primary Palmyrene Aramaic inscription... 16
- Figure 1.7. PAT 1078: Greek and Palmyrene Aramaic inscription of Dura-Europos dedicated to Nemesis with visually primary Greek inscription..... 17
- Figure 1.8. PAT 1080: relief of Herakles with Greek and Palmyrene Aramaic texts from Dura-Europos. 19

3. From Palmyra to India: How the East Was Won — Jean-Baptiste Yon

- Figure 3.1. IGLS xvii.16 = PAT 1352. Malikû son of Nešâ, builder of a temple of Bel. 29
- Figure 3.2. A leopard hunt, Palmyra, vicinity of the Allat sanctuary. 31
- Figure 3.3. RTP 285, ‘Nanai, Shaknai, auxiliary of Babylon’. 32
- Figure 3.4. Cantineau 1931, 139, no. 18 = PAT 2754. Inscription of Alexandros sent as an envoy by Germanicus..... 34

4. Palmyra and the Sasanians in the Third Century AD — Touraj Daryaei

- Figure 4.1. Arsacid mints..... 40

5. Zenobia and the East — Nathanael J. Andrade

- Figure 5.1. Coin of Aurelian, ANS 1944.100.32846..... 46
- Figure 5.2. Horse armour excavated at Dura-Europos..... 48
- Figure 5.3. Mosaic showing an archer killing Persian tigers..... 49
- Figure 5.4. Relief of figures wearing Syro-Mesopotamian tunic and trousers..... 50

6. The Fate of Palmyra and the East after AD 273 — Emanuele E. Intagliata

- Figure 6.1. Plan of the site. Monuments discussed in the text: 1. Great Colonnade; 2. Suq;
3. Annexe of the Agora; 4. Sanctuary of Baalshamin; 5. Camp of Diocletian..... 59
- Figure 6.2. The Camp of Diocletian, view of the stretch of the Via Praetoria from the Groma to the Forum. 60
- Figure 6.3. Route from Palmyra to Hit..... 63

7. Palmyrene Funerary Art between East and West — Rubina Raja

- Figure 7.1. Sarcophagus lid with a seated female, two standing individuals, a reclining female, and a reclining male. From the Tomb of A'ailamî and Zebidâ, west necropolis..... 72
- Figure 7.2. Fragmented sarcophagus lid with a reclining female.
From the Tomb of A'ailamî and Zebidâ, west necropolis. 72
- Figure 7.3. Fragmented sarcophagus lid with the torso of a reclining female.
From the Tomb of A'ailamî and Zebidâ, west necropolis. 73
- Figure 7.4. Fragmented sarcophagus lid with the lower body of a reclining female.
From the Tomb of A'ailamî and Zebidâ, west necropolis. 73
- Figure 7.5. Complete sarcophagus with a banqueting scene on the lid, depicting a seated and a reclining female, and busts on the box.
From the Tombeau de l'Aviation, south-east necropolis..... 74
- Figure 7.6a. Complete sarcophagus with a banqueting scene on the lid, a religious scene on the front of the box, and a reclining female on the side of the box..... 75
- Figure 7.6b. Side view of the sarcophagus box with a reclining female and a standing servant..... 75
- Figure 7.7. Banquet relief with a standing and reclining female. 76
- Figure 7.8. Banquet relief with a standing and reclining female. 77

8. Ashurbanipal and the Reclining Banqueter in Palmyra — Maura K. Heyn

- Figure 8.1. Wall-panel: banquet scene with Ashurbanipal and his queen.
North Palace, Nineveh. 645–635 BC. 97
- Figure 8.2. Banquet relief. Palmyra. 98
- Figure 8.3. Funerary relief of Abuna, daughter of Nabuna, c. AD 170–230.
Palmyra. Limestone with traces of red paint..... 99
- Figure 8.4. Funerary relief. Palmyra, c. AD 125–150. 99
- Figure 8.5. Banquet scene of Malkû, Palmyra. National Museum of Damascus. 100
- Figure 8.6. Relief, funeral banquet, c. AD 200–250, limestone. 102
- Figure 8.7. Funerary relief. Probably Palmyra, c. second to third centuries AD. 102

Figure 8.8.	Funerary relief of a banquet scene. Limestone, c. AD 200–273.....	103
Figure 8.9.	Clay tessera with banquet scene. Probably Palmyra, c. first to second centuries AD. . .	103
Figure 8.10.	Skyphos, 100–50 BC, silver.	104
Figure 8.11.	Phiale Mesomphalos, 525–450 BC, silver.	104

9. So-Called ‘Servants’ or ‘Pages’ in Palmyrene Funerary Sculpture — Fred Albertson

Figure 9.1.	Sarcophagus with scene of sacrifice, from Tomb 176, Palmyra. Limestone, c. AD 230.....	109
Figure 9.2.	Detail of Fig. 9.1, sacrifice with attendants carrying offerings..	109
Figure 9.3.	Sarcophagus depicting the departure for a hunt, from the Exedra of Julius Aurelius Maqqai, Tomb of ‘Atênaten, Palmyra. Limestone. After AD 229.....	110
Figure 9.4.	Fragment of a sarcophagus depicting two attendants, from the Exedra of Julius Aurelius Maqqai, Tomb of ‘Atênaten, Palmyra. Limestone. After AD 229.....	110
Figure 9.5.	Sarcophagus depicting two attendants and a camel, from the Polish Excavations of the Camp of Diocletian, Palmyra. Limestone, c. AD 220.....	111
Figure 9.6.	Sarcophagus depicting six attendants, from the Tomb of Aviation, Palmyra. Limestone, c. AD 220.	112
Figure 9.7.	Sarcophagus depicting attendants at a banquet, from the Tomb of Julius Aurelius Marona, Palmyra. Limestone. After AD 236.	112
Figure 9.8.	‘Small banquet relief’, from Palmyra. Limestone, c. AD 200–225.....	114
Figure 9.9.	Stele with Yarḥai and attendant carrying writing implements, from Palmyra. Limestone, c. AD 230–250.....	115
Figure 9.10.	Loculus plaque of Malkû, son of Malê, from Palmyra. Limestone, c. AD 120–140. . .	116
Figure 9.11.	Pilaster capital with offering scene to Abgal, from the Temple of Abgal and Ma’an, Khirbet Semrin. Limestone, c. AD 200.	116
Figure 9.12.	‘Small banquet relief’, from Palmyra. Limestone, c. AD 230.	118
Figure 9.13.	Relief of the priest Narkissos, entrance to the Lower Great Temple, Niha.....	118
Figure 9.14.	‘Small banquet relief’, from Palmyra. Limestone, c. AD 230.	119
Figure 9.15.	Stele with two male children, from Palmyra. Limestone, c. AD 150–200.....	119
Figure 9.16.	‘Otes-fresco’, from room K of the Temple of the Palmyrene Gods, Dura-Europos. Fresco, c. AD 220. Now lost, preserved through excavation photograph.....	121
Figure 9.17.	Short side of sarcophagus, reclining woman with attendant, from Tomb 176, Palmyra. Limestone, c. AD 230.	122
Figure 9.18.	Short side of sarcophagus, woman with camel, from Tomb 176, Palmyra. Limestone, c. AD 230.....	123

10. Notes on Some Palmyrene Religious Imagery — Ted Kaizer

Figure 10.1.	Statue of Jupiter Optimus Maximus Heliopolitanus from as-Sukhnah.....	128
Figure 10.2.	Statue of Jupiter Optimus Maximus Heliopolitanus from as-Sukhnah.....	128
Figure 10.3.	Relief of she-wolf from the Temple of Bel at Palmyra.....	129
Figure 10.4.	Relief of she-wolf from the Temple of Bel at Palmyra.....	129
Figure 10.5.	Arch with bust opposite eastern nymphaeum, opening up street leading from colonnade to agora. View towards the north.	130
Figure 10.6.	Detail of bust on Fig. 10.5.	130
Figure 10.7.	Detail of bust on Fig. 10.5.	130
Figure 10.8.	Arch with bust opposite eastern nymphaeum, opening up street leading from colonnade to agora. View towards the south.	131
Figure 10.9.	Detail of bust on Fig. 10.8.	131
Figure 10.10.	Detail of bust on Fig. 10.8.	131
Figure 10.11.	Arch with bust in western half of colonnade. View towards the north.....	132
Figure 10.12.	Detail of bust on Fig. 10.11.....	132
Figure 10.13.	Arch with bust in western half of colonnade. View towards the south.....	133
Figure 10.14.	Ruins of the eastern nymphaeum with bust.....	133
Figure 10.15.	Cornice above central door of scaenae frons, entering from colonnade.	134
Figure 10.16.	Cornice originally above entrance to so-called Caesareum.	135
Figure 10.17.	Drawing by Cassas of a frieze with three busts.....	135

11. A Palmyrene Child at Dura-Europos — Lisa R. Brody

Figure 11.1.	Regional map and city plan of Dura-Europos.	139
Figure 11.2.	Upper fragment of figure of a Palmyrene child.....	140
Figure 11.3.	Lower fragment of figure of a Palmyrene child.....	140
Figure 11.4.	Figure of a Palmyrene child.	140
Figure 11.5.	Plan of Blocks G1–G8 in Dura-Europos Excavation.	141
Figure 11.6.	Figure of a Palmyrene child from Dura-Europos, Yale University Art Gallery. AD 100–150.	142
Figure 11.7.	Mary and James Ottaway Gallery of Ancient Dura-Europos.	143
Figure 11.8.	Figure of a Palmyrene child from Dura-Europos.....	143
Figure 11.9.	Figure of a Palmyrene child from Dura-Europos.....	144

Figure 11.10. Silver bracelet with carnelian intaglio from Dura-Europos, Yale University Art Gallery. Second or early third century AD.....	144
Figure 11.11. Palmyrene funerary relief with a man and his two nephews, Seattle Art Museum. Second century AD.....	145
Figure 11.12. Palmyrene funerary relief with a brother and a sister, The State Hermitage Museum, St Petersburg, c. AD 114.....	146
Figure 11.13. Palmyrene funerary relief with a mother and child, British Museum, London, c. AD 184.....	146
Figure 11.14. Palmyrene funerary relief of a family, Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York. Second or third century AD. Museum Purchase in 1902.	147
Figure 11.15. Palmyrene funerary relief of a mother and two children, Harvard Art Museums. Mid-second century AD.	148
Figure 11.16. Graph showing clusters of stable isotope ratios for limestone objects from Durene and Palmyrene quarry sources.	150
Figure 11.17. Figure of a Palmyrene child from Dura-Europos photographed with Visible-Induced (infrared) Luminescence (VIL).....	152

12. Edessa and the Sculpture of Greater North Mesopotamia in the Romano-Parthian Period — Michael Blömer

Figure 12.1. Map of ancient northern Mesopotamia and north Syria.	158
Figure 12.2. Column monuments of the third century AD on the citadel of Şanlıurfa.....	159
Figure 12.3. View of Sumatar from the west with the höyük at the centre.	160
Figure 12.4. Statue of a nobleman from Osrhoene, limestone, second–third centuries AD.....	161
Figure 12.5. Statue of an archer, from Edessa, limestone, second–third centuries AD.	162
Figure 12.6. Statue of a nobleman, Bir el-Kantari, limestone, second–third centuries AD.....	162
Figure 12.7. Fragmented statue from Ain Arous, limestone, whereabouts unknown.....	163
Figure 12.8. Funerary banquet scene, tomb of Seluk, Kırk Mağara necropolis, Edessa, second–third centuries AD.	163
Figure 12.9. Funerary banquet scene, Kırk Mağara necropolis.	163
Figure 12.10. Funerary relief with a male half figure, Edessa, limestone, second–third centuries AD.	164
Figure 12.11. Funerary relief.....	164
Figure 12.12. Funerary stele of Šalmat and Rabbayta, limestone, second–third centuries AD.	165
Figure 12.13. Votive stele.....	165
Figure 12.14. Funerary mosaic with funerary banquet scene, Edessa, second–third centuries AD, now lost.....	166

- Figure 12.15. Funerary mosaic of Aphtuha and his family, Edessa, second–third centuries AD. . . . 167
- Figure 12.16. Cave sanctuary at Sumatar, rear wall with niche flanked by cultic standards and adorants, third century AD. 168
- Figure 12.17. Open-air sanctuary with rock-cut reliefs and inscriptions at Sumatar. 168
- Figure 12.18. Funerary statue. 170
- Figure 12.19. Rock reliefs in the necropolis of Hilar, second–third centuries AD. 171