

SUPERVISION

on motherhood and surveillance

edited by Sophie Hamacher
with Jessica Hankey

Melina Abdullah
Jeny Amaya
Gemma Anderson
Nurcan Atalan-Helicke
Sarah Blackwood
Lisa Cartwright
Cary Beth Cryor
Moyra Davey
Duae Collective
Sabba Elahi
Laura Fong Prosper
Regina José Galindo
Michele Goodwin
Alexis Pauline Gumbs
Lily Gurton-Wachter
Keeonna Harris
Laëtitia Badaut Hausmann
Jennifer Hayashida
Kenyatta A.C. Hinkle
Lisbeth Kaiser
Magdalena Kallenberger
Caitlin Keliiaa
Anjuli Fatima Raza Kolb
Stephanie Lumsden
Irene Lusztig
Tala Madani
Jade Phoenix Martinez
Mónica Mayer
Iman Mersal
Jennifer C. Nash
Hương Ngô
Erika Niwa
Priscilla Ocen
Litia Perta
Claudia Rankine
Viva Ruiz
Ming Smith
Sable Elyse Smith
Sheida Soleimani
Stephanie Syjuco
Hồng-Ân Trương
Carrie Mae Weems
Lauren Whaley
Kandis Williams
Mai'a Williams
Carmen Winant
Kate Wolf
Hannah Zeavin

Contents

- 6 Preface
Sophie Hamacher
- 16 Introduction
A conversation with Lisa Cartwright, Alexis Pauline Gumbs, Sophie Hamacher, Jessica Hankey, Iman Mersal, and Jennifer C. Nash
- 24 A Conversation with Lisbeth Kaiser and Erika Niwa
Blending professional and anecdotal observations about the impact of surveillance on families, this conversation helped initiate the research for this book
- 27 Her Internet
Jennifer Hayashida
A poem that probes technology, love, and connection
- 28 We Stand in the Gray Spring Light
Jennifer Hayashida
A poem that evokes place, belonging, and the feeling of being watched
- 32 A Conversation with Laëtitia Badaut Haussmann
An informal exchange between friends about mothering and the technological aspects of surveillance
- 36 Family Scanning
Hannah Zeavin
An essay about the history of the infiltration of technology in the American family
- 40 A Conversation with Moyra Davey
The artist discusses how she came to edit the anthology Mother Reader: Essential Writings on Motherhood
- 43 A Conversation with Jennifer C. Nash
A reflection on Black maternal politics and aesthetics and white political motherhood
- 46 Film Stills and Biometrics
Sophie Hamacher
Image-based essays
- 62 Policing the Womb
Michele Goodwin
This excerpt from Policing the Womb: Invisible Women and the Criminalization of Motherhood describes state policies that seek to control women's reproductive conduct
- 64 A Conversation with Irene Lusztig
The filmmaker discusses The Motherhood Archives, her essay film exploring historical efforts to discipline and control the bodies of pregnant women through maternal education
- 71 Keeping Watch
Sarah Blackwood
An intimate account of the author's descent into the "surveillant madness" of breastfeeding
- 75 Maternal Surveillance and the Custodial Camera
Lisa Cartwright
This essay examines U.S. child detention practices along the U.S.–Mexico border in the context of visual studies
- 86 ["Closed to traffic"]
Claudia Rankine
This excerpt from Citizen: An American Lyric describes the benevolent "vigilance" of a parent watching children at play
- 87 A Conversation with Melina Abdullah
An academic and civic leader talks about cofounding Black Lives Matter in Los Angeles and the power of collectivist mothering
- 92 A Conversation with Lauren Whaley
A radio producer and print reporter specializing in topics related to reproductive health care talks about her work in childbirth photography and the impacts of race on maternal health
- 97 A Conversation with Jade Phoenix Martinez
The artist, poet, and actor discusses How to Make a Rainbow, a film she produced and starred in with her child that takes place during her own gender transition
- 100 On Disobedience
Mai'a Williams
A poem about the revolutionary potential of mothers
- 101 A Conversation with Nurcan Atalan-Helicke
An exchange about the extension of surveillance mechanisms into the lives of families in Turkey through food
- 107 The Terrible Two
Magdalena Kallenberger
Part voiceover, part diary—presented as a series of texts detailing the organizational and psychological hurdles faced by a mother as she parents alone

- 111 *Drawing on the History of Gestation
and Hands and Body Parts
Sophie Hamacher
Image-based essays
- 124 *Looking at our mothers
Iman Mersal
Drawing from Roland Barthes' writings on photography, this excerpt from How to Mend: Motherhood and Its Ghosts describes the difficulty of seeing our mothers in their photographs
- 128 *The Evanesced: Embodied Disappearance [Shifting Spectators to Witness]
Kenyatta A.C. Hinkle
An essay tracing some of the histories and ideas that inform the artist's ongoing performance series The Evanesced—a body of work that asks, "What does it mean to emerge from erasure?"
- 138 *Mothering Swells
Litia Perta
A consideration of how the acts of care that make up mothering raise fundamental questions about our interdependence and entanglement
- 145 *Heavy Swimmers
Alexis Pauline Gumbs
Dedicated to Ebony Wilkerson, a mother who drove herself and her children into the ocean, this poem asks difficult questions about care and responsibility
- 150 *A Conversation with Keeonna Harris
Harris discusses the complexities of raising a family while living in what she has termed the "borderlands of the criminal justice system"
- 158 *Nel Nome Del Padre
Duae Collective
(Silvia Campidelli, Luna Coppola)
The art collective describes the bureaucratic gridlock in which their children were caught as they sought Italian citizenship
- 160 *Body Blitz
Anjuli Fatima Raza Kolb
A poem that investigates pregnancy, calibration, and queer kinship
- 164 *A Conversation with Priscilla Ocen
A professor of law speaks about the ways in which criminalization and incarceration are used to police the reproductive choices of poor women of color
- 170 *Mama Virtual
Jeny Amaya
The filmmaker reflects on her cinematic project, which centers stories of transnational mothering by women who have children living in other countries
- 176 *Watching Her Watching Him
Kate Wolf
This essay reconsiders the 1968 performance piece Mon fils by the artist Lea Lublin
- 180 *A Conversation with Caitlin Keliiaa and Stephanie Lumsden
A discussion about the language of benevolence with which the state masks its surveillance and policing of Natives in the U.S.
- 187 *Afterword
Lily Gurton-Wachter
- 190 *Contributors
- All interviews conducted by
Sophie Hamacher
- Works by the following artists are presented throughout the book:
Gemma Anderson
Cary Beth Cryor
Sabba Elahi
Laura Fong Prosper
Regina José Galindo
Kenyatta A.C. Hinkle
Tala Madani
Mónica Mayer
Hương Ngô
Viva Ruiz
Ming Smith
Sable Elyse Smith
Sheida Soleimani
Stephanie Syjuco
Hồng-Ân Trương
Carrie Mae Weems
Kandis Williams
Carmen Winant