

CONTENTS

List of Figures	vii
1. Migrants' Perspectives, Migrants in Perspective: World Cinema, An Introduction Nicole B. Wallenbrock and Frank Jacob	1
PART I MIGRANTS' PERSPECTIVE
2. Migrants and Refugees in Moving Image Contemporary Art: Ghazel's "Home (Stories)" (2008) and Bouchra Khalili's "The Mapping Journey Project" (2008–11) Valerie Behiery	15
3. Forced Migration and Fantasies of Return in Palestinian Cinema: When I Saw You (Annemarie Jacir, 2012) and Gate of the Sun (Yousry Nasrallah, 2003) Drew Paul	46
4. Displacement and the Vicissitudes of Pan-Arabism: Between The Dupes (Tewfik Saleh, 1972) and In the Last Days of the City (Tamer El Said, 2016) Mohannad Ghawanmeh	68
5. Still/Moving: An Analysis of Recent Films about Transnational Migration from Central America to the USA William Brown	88

CONTENTS

6. Japanese Immigrant Identities on the Brazilian Screen: Gaijin: Os Caminhos da Liberdade (Tizuka Yamasaki, 1983) and Corações Sujos (Vicente Amorim, 2011) Frank Jacob	108
PART II MIGRANTS IN PERSPECTIVE
7. Communitarian versus Humanitarian Forces in the Dardenne Brothers' La Promesse (1996) and Le Silence de Lorna (2008) Colleen Hays	143
8. This is Not Paradise and the Journey Was Not Worth it: Globalization, Financial Crisis, and the Portrayal of the Sub-Saharan Immigrant in Two Spanish Films Marta F. Suarez	161
9. Mobility Constrained and Enabled by Gender: The In-transit Africaine of Hope (Boris Lojkine, 2014) Nicole B. Wallenbrock	186
10. Un/documented Migration in "Borderland Schengen" Jan Kühnemund	205
11. Circulating Images of Death: Festival Films and the Syrian Refugee Crisis Michelle Baroody	230
The Contributors	256
Index	258