

Contents

List of Illustrations vii

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction 1

SYLVIE PATRON

PART 1. OPTIONAL-NARRATOR THEORY IN LITERARY STUDIES

1. Some Problems concerning Narrators of Novels and Speakers of Poems 37

JONATHAN CULLER

2. Implied Authors and Imposed Narrators—or Actual Authors? 53

BRIAN BOYD

3. Real Authors, Real Narrators, and the Rhetoric of Fiction 72

VINCENZ PIEPER

4. Voice and Time 89

JOHN BRENKMAN

5. The Narrator: A Historical and Epistemological Approach to Narrative Theory 107

SYLVIE PATRON

6. Biblical Narrative and the Death of the Narrator 131

ROBERT S. KAWASHIMA

7. The Narrator in Biblical Narratives 150

GREGOR ANDERSSON

8. Narrator Theory and Medieval English Narratives 166

A. C. SPEARING

9. Marquis de Sade's Narrative Despotism: The Mystified Magistrate and The Misfortunes of Virtue 184

MARC HERSANT

PART 2. OPTIONAL-NARRATOR THEORY BEFORE AND BEYOND LITERATURE

10. Silent Self and the Deictic Imaginary:
Hamburger's Radical Insight 203

MARY GALBRAITH

11. Aesthetic Theory Meets Optional-Narrator Theory 222

LARS-ÅKE SKALIN

12. The Vanishing Narrator Meets the Fundamental Narrator:
On the Literary Historical and Transmedial Limitations of the Narrator Concept 238

KAI MIKKONEN

13. A Paradox of Cinematic Narration 259

PAISLEY LIVINGSTON

Bibliography 273

Contributors 283

Index 289