

EDITED BY
ADI KUNTSMAN, SAM MARTIN AND ESPERANZA MIYAKE

DIGITAL DISENGAGEMENT

COVID-19, Digital Justice and the Politics of Refusal

Contents

Notes on Contributors	v
Introduction	1
Adi Kuntsman, Sam Martin and Esperanza Miyake
one	En/forcing the Tokyo 2020 Olympics: The Racialization of Digital Engagement and Digital Solutionism Esperanza Miyake 17
two	Digital Engagements and Work–Life Balance in Creative Labour Serra Sezgin 38
three	‘#RoeVsWadeOverturned: Any Idea How Fast Your #PeriodtrackingApp Can Lead To Jail?’: Digital Disengagement and the Repeal of Roe vs Wade Sam Martin 61
four	#SnailMailRevolution: The Networked Aesthetics of Pandemic Letter-Writing Campaigns Chelsea Butkowski 83
five	Data Minimalism and Digital Disengagement in COVID-19 Hacktivism Annika Richterich 103
six	Digital Solutionism Meets Pandemic Imaginaries Adi Kuntsman 128

seven	State Violence, Digital Harms and the COVID-19 Pandemic: Imagining Refusal, Resistance and Community Self-Defence Seeta Peña Gangadharan and Patrick Williams in conversation with Adi Kuntsman, Sam Martin and Esperanza Miyake	154
	Epilogue: Digital Disengagement – Questions of Pandemic and Post-Pandemic Digitalities Adi Kuntsman, Sam Martin and Esperanza Miyake	176
	Index	182