

Contents

List of figures	x
List of tables	xii
List of boxes	xiv
List of contributors	xv
Preface	xxvi
Acknowledgments	xxix
Introduction: collaborative public management as an emergent field Jack Wayne Meek	1
PART I PRACTICES AND PATTERNS OF COLLABORATIVE PUBLIC MANAGEMENT
1 Collaboration: what does it really mean? Margaret Stout and Robyn Keast	17
2 The collaborative governance networks literature: a comprehensive and systematic review Göktuğ Morçöl, Eunsil Yoo, Shahinshah Faisal Azim, and Aravind Menon	36
3 Negotiation within collaborative networks Elise Boruvka and Lisa Blomgren Amsler	50
4 Mapping the communities of practice of public administrators Christopher Koliba	67
5 The generation and selection of diversity in collaborative processes: an evolutionary view Lasse Gerrits and Robin Chang	85
6 The complexity of integrating sustainability with transportation asset management processes: governance of intergovernmental decision-making on prioritizing transportation infrastructure projects Asim Zia and Christopher Koliba	99
PART II ARENAS OF COLLABORATIVE PUBLIC MANAGEMENT
7 Hybridity and the search for the right mix in governing PPP collaboration Erik Hans Klijn, Joop Koppenjan, and Rianne Warsen	113
8 Collaborative governance of freshwater Elizabeth Eppel and Jackie Dingfelder	129

9	Collaborative emergency management: effectiveness of emergency management networks Jenna Tyler and Naim Kapucu	146
10	A 'Key Actors Governance Framework' (KAGF) for nature-based solutions to societal challenges Siobhan McQuaid, Mary Lee Rhodes, and Aitziber Egusquiza Ortega	164
11	Local governments and shared services: insights on institutional mechanisms, partners, and purpose Jun Li, José Sánchez, Jered B. Carr, and Michael D. Siciliano	179
12	Who will risk interlocal collaboration? Evan Walter and Kurt Thurmaier	196
13	Collaboration in public budgeting Marcia L. Godwin	213
14	Democratizing network governance: the role of citizen input Sofia Prysmakova-Rivera	228
15	From collaborative responsiveness to collaborative empowerment Thomas Andrew Bryer	241

PART III THE LIMITS OF COLLABORATIVE PUBLIC MANAGEMENT

16	Tribal sovereignty and the limits and potential of inter-governmental collaboration Kathy Quick	253
17	Functional collective action dilemma and collaborative management Heewon Lee	268
18	Collaborative governance of SDGs: a welfare economics view Frank Naert	282
19	Limitations of collaborative public management in American fiscal federalism Soomi Lee	299

PART IV ADVANCING COLLABORATIVE PUBLIC MANAGEMENT PERFORMANCE

20	Improving the use of science in collaborative governance Tomas M. Koontz and Craig W. Thomas	313
21	Collaborating in high-reliability settings Olivier Berthod and Jörg Sydow	331

22	Fostering sustainable community outcomes through policy networks: a dynamic performance governance approach Carmine Bianchi	349
23	Continuous improvement (CI) in collaborative management Robert Agranoff	373
24	Implementation in collaboration governance Tina Nabatchi and Kirk Emerson	402
25	The social embedding of generic governance instruments Christopher Ansell, Eva Sørensen, and Jacob Torfing	421
26	Collaborative governance under stress: limits, failure, renewal Louise K. Comfort	441
	Epilogue: the significance of collaborative public management Jack Wayne Meek	458
	Index	462