

Orchha, Datia, Panna: Miniatures from the Royal Courts of Bundelkhand (1590–1850) II

Konrad Seitz

Shringara and
Bhakti –
Sacred and Profane
Love at the Court of Orchha

ARTIBUS ASIAE PUBLISHERS
Supplementum 55.2

NIYOGI BOOKS

Table of Contents

Period II: Orchha Painting 1605–1635

Period II.1: Bir Singh Deo 1605–1627

- 13 Bhakti
- 13 Krishna-bhakti Mysticism at Orchha
- 14 Bhakti-rasa Art: A Limited Opening of Orchha Painting to Mughal Naturalism
- 15 The Seven Surviving Series of the Bir Singh Period
- 40 “Mughalizing” the Orchha Style

Period II.2: Jhujhar Singh 1627–1635

- 43 Jhujhar Singh (r. 1627–1635)

Period III: Orchha and Datia 1635–1675

- 68 The Division of the Style after 1635: Vernacular Style A in Orchha,
Mughal-Influenced Style B in Datia

Period III A1: The Boston Ragamala Style Orchha 1635–1650

- 71 The Boston Ragamala Style
- 78 The Architectural Repertoire of the Boston Ragamala Style
- 96 The Fifth Orchha Rasikapriya series, 1648
- 97 The Style of the Series
- 99 The Rasikapriya as a Poetics

Period III A2: The Florally Embellished Style Orchha 1650–1675

- 184 The Ornamental Turn
- 184 The Return to the Pluriscenic Visual Narration
- 257 Bibliography