

Managing Copyright

Emerging Business Models
in the Individual and Collective Management of Rights

Edited by Rudolf Leška

OBSAH

A Word from the Editor	XIII
Rudolf Leška

PART I INTRODUCTION

1

Welcome Address Delivered at the Opening of the 2019 ALAI Congress in Prague: Reconsidering the Role of National Collecting Societies	2
Frank Gotzen

EU IPO and the Enforcement of Copyright	5
Christian Archambeau

Secteur du droit d'auteur et des industries de la création	8
Sylvie Forbin

Collective Management of Rights in a Transforming Market	12
Gadi Oron

Opening Speech	17
Rudolf Leška

PART II STUDIES

19

Is Competition Among Collectives Leading to Positive Changes in Collective Management?	20
Daniel Gervais

The United States	20
-------------------------	----

The European Union	22
--------------------------	----

Lessons	27
---------------	----

The Contributions and Limitations of Competition Law to Regulate Collective Rights Management in the EU	29
Josef Drexl

1 Introduction	29
----------------------	----

2 The economics of collective rights management	30
---	----

2.1 The relevance of direct network effects	30
---	----

2.2	The relevance of indirect network effects – CMOs as platforms in two-sided markets?	32
2.3	Different competitive situation in the different markets	33
3	The competition law framework for collective rights management	35
3.1	CMOs are not considered as illegal price cartels	35
3.2	The function of CMOs to protect rightholders against big exploiters	37
3.3	Control of dominance to protect rightholders	38
3.4	Control of dominance to protect users	41
3.5	Limitations of competition law	43
4	Need for competition law in the future	44
4.1	Competition law as one of three available control mechanisms	45
4.2	Application to different fields of enforcement	46
4.3	Additional insights from merger control law	49
5	Conclusion	51

Competition and Collective Management of Copyright in the 2019 EU Copyright Directives: An Overview 53

Sylvie Nérisson

Argentinian Experience with Competition and Tariff Setting 57

Delia Lipszyc

History	57
Paradigms of Collective Management	58
The Argentine Experience	60
Conclusion	62

Geoblocking in EU Copyright Law 63

Tatiana Eleni Synodinou

1	Introduction	63
2	Territoriality in EU Copyright Law: a Retrospective	66
2.1	The Foundations of the Principle of Territoriality and its Consequences on European Copyright Law	66
2.2	The Principle of Exhaustion – Offline and Online	69
3	The Steps Towards an Overcoming of the Principle of Territoriality	72
3.1	Geoblocking and Competition Law	72
3.1.1	The CJEU’s Murphy Decision	72
3.1.2	The Sky Case	75
3.2	The Legislative Initiatives for Less Copyright Territoriality	80
4	The Geoblocking Regulation: a Failure or an Opportunity?	84
4.1	The Need for New Solutions in Light of the EU’s Evolution	84
4.2	Some de lege ferenda Thoughts: Compulsory License as a Means for an Effective Overcoming of Geoblocking in the EU?	88
5	Conclusion	94

Digital Content Portability and its Relation to Conformity with the Contract	95
Pavel Koukal
Introduction	95
The Material Scope of the Digital Content Directive	99
Portability of Digital Content as a Consumer-Law Issue	102
Portability as a Subcategory of Conformity with the Contract	106
Specific Issues Related to the Breach of Cross-Border Portability	108
Portability and Unenforceability	109
Portability as a Serious Breach of the Contract	111
Portability and Quality	113
Conclusions	114
Voluntary, Mandatory and Extended Collective Management in the Light of International and EU Norms	118
Mihály Ficsor
Introductory Remarks	118
Voluntary Collective Management	118
Mandatory Collective Management as a Limitation of Exclusive Rights	120
Mandatory Collective Management of Rights to Remuneration	123
EU Directives on Mandatory Collective Management	124
Extended (and Presumption-based) Collective Management from the Viewpoint of the International Treaties	125
Extended Collective Management, a Nordic-origin System Applied Also in Other Countries	131
Provisions in EU Directives on Extended Collective Management Before the Digital Single Market Directive	133
The Soulier and Doke Case	135
General Regulation of the Requirements of Extended Collective Management	137
Extended and Mandatory Collective Management in theory and practice	140
Johan Axhamn
1 Introduction	140
2 Legal bases for use of copyright protected content	142
3 EU Directive on collective management of copyright and related rights ..	146
4 The Soulier and Doke case	148
5 Provisions on Collective licensing with an extended effect in the DSM Directive	150
5.1 Article 8 on use of out-of-commerce works and other subject matter by cultural heritage institutions	151
5.2 Article 12	152

6	Collective licensing – a potential solution to article 17 of the DSM Directive?	154
7	Conclusions	155
PART III REPORTS		157
Impact of EU Policy on Cultural Diversity and Small Countries. Challenges of the EU Regulatory Framework of Extended Collective Management for the Small CMOs		158
Gábor Faludi
	Collective Management in the EU Substantive Copyright Law	158
	The Collective Management Directive	159
	CM in the Digital Single Market and the Broadcasting Directives	159
Independent Management Entity on the Example of Soundreef		162
Massimo Scialò
Spécificités des arts visuels dans la gestion collective des droits d’auteur		165
Marie-Anne Ferry-Fall
1	Les missions de l’ADAGP	165
1.1	Présence dans les instances internationales	166
2	Spécificités des arts visuel	166
2.1	Spécificité lié à la nature des œuvres des arts visuels	166
2.2	Spécificité des usages	167
2.3	Spécificité des droits	167
3	Points communs avec les autres secteurs	167
4	Les «Règles de Rio»: un très haut niveau d’individualisation de la gestion des droits	168
5	Parmi les défis de l’ADAGP : Focus sur la directive européenne sur le droit d’auteur et son application en France (2019-2021).	169
Voluntary Licensing of Text Based Works in the United States: Copyright Clearance Center		171
Frederic Haber
1	Introduction – Making Copyright Work	171
2	Voluntary Collective Licensing Requires a Commercial Approach	172
3	Unique Issues Facing Collective Licensing of Text in the U.S.	173
4	Practical Responses to Those Unique Issues	175
5	Recent Developments Support Voluntary Collective Licensing in New Ways	177
6	Conclusion	178

Developing the Copyright infrastructure – Metadata and Beyond . . . 179

Viveca Still

- 1 Why Am I Here? 179
- 2 What Do We Mean When We Talk About the Copyright Infrastructure? . . 179
- 3 What is the Issue That We Attempt to Address? 180
 - 3.1 The Challenge 180
 - 3.2 The Benefit 180
 - 3.3 Some Questions to be Addressed in the Discussions 181
- 4 How Does This Theme Relate to the Data Economy? 181

Introducing AMRA and its business model 183

Tomas Ericsson

Technology Driven CMOs: The Importance of CMOs in the Digital Era 184

José-Luis Sevillano

- 1 Introduction 184
- 2 The Reciprocity Management Challenge 185
- 3 Artists’ Remuneration in the Digital Era 185
 - 3.1 Digital Music Business Models 185
 - 3.2 The Effects of the New Business Models for Performers 186
- 4 The Role of the CMOs in Digital Music Business 187
- 5 The Spanish Model Exclusive and Remuneration Rights 188

Dealing with Territoriality in EU Copyright 190

Peter Bernt Hugenholtz

- 1 EU-wide Exhaustion 190
- 2 The ‘SatCab’ Approach 191
- 3 Collective Rights Management Directive 191
- 4 EU Competition Law 192
- 5 Conclusion 192

Collective Management in Cyberspace 194

Adriana Moscoso

- 1 Nuestra idea de transposición en Gral 194
- 2 Triangulo de transparencia. Arts. 18-20. Transponer con literalidad, no problemas específicos. 195
 - 2.1 En qué punto estamos en law reunions, tendencias de los países, sobre la directive mud 195
- 3 Recurso Polonia 196
- 4 Sobre la directive sat/cab 196

Asian IP Offices' Policies on Collective Management	197
Satoshi Watanabe
1 Introduction	197
2 Direct licensing of digital services	197
3 Asian IP Offices' Policies	197
3.1 China	198
3.2 Chinese Taipei	198
3.3 Indonesia	198
3.4 Korea	199
3.5 Malaysia	199
3.6 Philippines	199
4 Conclusion	199
The Equitable Remuneration of Audiovisual Authors: A Proposal of Unwaivable Remuneration Rights Under Collective Management ..	201
Raquel Xalabarder
PART IV CONCLUSION	205
RAPPORT GÉNÉRAL: Gestion collective des droits	206
Romana Matanovac Vučković
1 Aperçu général de la gestion collective	206
1.1 Organismes de gestion collective : monopoles naturels ou légaux ..	206
1.2 Gestion collective volontaire, étendue et obligatoire	208
1.3 La concurrence entre CMO	210
1.4 Forme des organismes de gestion collective	211
1.5 Contribution des organisations de gestion collective au développement culturel et social de la société	211
2 Relations entre les organismes de gestion collective et les titulaires de droits	213
2.1 Les titulaires de droits ont-ils le droit d'être représentés ?	213
2.2 Résolution des conflits entre titulaires de droits pour «double revendication»	213
2.3 Participation des auteurs aux conseils d'administration des organismes de gestion collective	214
2.4 Répartition des revenus	215
2.5 Autonomie de la volonté d'accorder des licences individuelles directes	215
2.6 Possibilité de licences non commerciales	216
3 Relations entre les organismes de gestion collective et les utilisateurs ..	216
3.1 Rémunération pour copie privée	216
3.2 Procédures de fixation des tarifs	217
3.3 Critères de fixation des tarifs	220

3.4	Transparence des tarifs	223
3.5	Questions de concurrence	223

GENERAL REPORT: Collective Management of Rights 226

Romana Matanovac Vučković

1	General overview of collective management	226
1.1	Collective management organisations: natural or legal monopolies	226
1.2	Voluntary, extended and mandatory collective management	227
1.3	Competition among CMOs	229
1.4	Form of collective management organisations	230
1.5	Contribution of collective management organisations to the cultural and social development of the society	231
2	Relations between collective management organisations and right owners	232
2.1	Do right holders have a right to be represented?	232
2.2	Resolution of conflicts between rights holders for “double claim”	232
2.3	Participation of authors in boards of collective management organisation	233
2.4	Distribution of revenues	234
2.5	Autonomy of will to grant individual direct licence	234
2.6	Possibility of non-commercial licences	234
3	Relations between collective management organisations and users	235
3.1	Private copying remuneration	235
3.2	Tariff setting procedure	236
3.3	Criteria for setting tariffs	239
3.4	Transparency of tariffs	241
3.5	Competition issues	242

INFORME GENERAL: Gestión colectiva de derechos 244

Romana Matanovac Vučković

1	Visión general de la gestión colectiva	244
1.1	Organizaciones de gestión colectiva: monopolios naturales o legales	244
1.2	Gestión colectiva voluntaria, ampliada y obligatoria	246
1.3	Competencia entre OCMs	248
1.4	Forma de las organizaciones de gestión colectiva	249
1.5	Contribución de las organizaciones de gestión colectiva al desarrollo cultural y social de la sociedad	249
2	Relaciones entre las organizaciones de gestión colectiva y los titulares de derechos	251
2.1	¿Tienen los titulares de derechos derecho a ser representados?	251
2.2	Resolución de litigios entre titulares de derechos por “doble reivindicación”	251
2.3	Participación de los autores en los consejos de administración de las organizaciones de gestión colectiva	252

2.4	Distribución de los ingresos	253
2.5	Autonomía de la voluntad para conceder licencias directas individuales	253
2.6	Posibilidad de licencias no comerciales	254
3	Relaciones entre las organizaciones de gestión colectiva y los usuarios	254
3.1	Remuneración por copia privada	254
3.2	Procedimientos de fijación de tarifas	255
3.3	Criterios para fijar las tarifas	258
3.4	Transparencia de las tarifas	261
3.5	Problemas de competencia	261

Individual and Collective Management Rights: A Three-dimensional Snapshot by Way of Concluding Remarks 263

Paul Torremans

1	Introduction	263
2	Continuity and Complexity	263
3	Private International Law with an Additional Layer of Complexity	264
4	Competition	265
5	The 2019 Copyright Directives	266
6	Setting and Litigating Tariffs	267
7	The Current European Landscape	267
8	The Three Dimensions	268
9	Conclusion	268

PART V ANNEXES 269

ALAI 2019 Congress Programme	271
---	------------