

Usages of the Past in Roman Historiography

Edited by

Aske Damtoft Poulsen

Arne Jönsson

BRILL

LEIDEN | BOSTON

Contents

Preface VII

Notes on Contributors IX

List of Figures XII

References and Abbreviations XIV

Historiography of Rome and Its Empire Series XV

Carsten H. Lange and Jesper M. Madsen

Introduction: Usages of the Past in Roman Historiography 1

Aske Damtoft Poulsen

PART 1

Coming to Terms with the Principate

- 1 Velleius Paterculus and the Battle of Actium 25

Roberto Cristofoli

- 2 In Short, the Republic: Florus and the (Re)Written Republic 40

Rachel Lilley Love

- 3 Principatus ac Libertas!? Tacitus, the Past and the Principate of Trajan 69

Kai Ruffing

PART 2

Intertextuality and Intratextuality

- 4 "Making History": Constructive Wonder (aka Quellenforschung) and the Composition of Caesar's Gallie War (Thanks to Labienus and Polybius) 91

Christopher B. Krebs

- 5 When in Disgrace with Fortune and Men's Eyes ... Livy (and Polybius) on the Gallie Sack of Rome 115

Ulrike Roth

- 6 Livy's Faliscan Schoolmaster 146
Christina Shuttleworth Kraus
- 7 From Thræsea Paetus to Calgacus – or Was It the Other Way Around?
An Example of Tacitean Intratextuality 169
Aske Damtoft Poulsen

PART 3

The Frontiers of Historiography

- 8 The Staging of Death: Tacitus' Agrippina the Younger and the Dramatic Turn 197
Rhiannon Ash
- 9 Tiberius and Tears: Grief and Genre 225
Johan Vekselius
- 10 Migration and Mobile Memory in the Roman Historical Digression 262
Kyle Khellaf
- 11 Epilogue: History in Pompeii 298
Anne-Marie Leander Touati
- Index Nominum et Rerum 327
- Index Locorum 335