

Professing Criticism

ESSAYS ON THE ORGANIZATION OF LITERARY STUDY

John Guillory

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS
CHICAGO AND LONDON

Contents

Preface vii

Part One: The Formation and Deformation of Literary Study

- CHAPTER 1 The Institution of Professions 3
CHAPTER 2 Professing Criticism 44
CHAPTER 3 Critique of Critical Criticism 79

Part Two: Organizing Literature: Foundations, Antecedents, Consequences

- CHAPTER 4 Monuments and Documents: On the Object of Study in the Humanities 105
CHAPTER 5 The Postrhetorical Condition 125
CHAPTER 6 Two Failed Disciplines: Belles Lettres
and Philology 168
CHAPTER 7 The Location of Literature 199
CHAPTER 8 The Contradictions of Global English 224

Part Three: Professionalization and Its Discontents

- CHAPTER 9 On the Permanent Crisis of Graduate Education 247
CHAPTER 10 Evaluating Scholarship in the Humanities 279
CHAPTER 11 Composition and the Demand for Writing 299
CHAPTER 12 The Question of Lay Reading 318

Conclusion: Ratio Studiorum 343

Acknowledgments 389

Index 393