

The Persian Empire from Cyrus II to Artaxerxes I

Second Edition

Translated and edited with notes by

MARIA BROSIUS

University of Newcastle upon Tyne

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

TABLE OF CONTENTS

(Numbers in bold print refer to passages)

	Page
Acknowledgements	iii
Table of Contents	iv
Map and List of Illustrations	viii
Notes and Abbreviations
Abbreviations of Books and Journals	ix
Abbreviations of Persian Sources	x
Other Abbreviations and Symbols	x
Alphabetical List of Near Eastern Texts	xii
Alphabetical List of Greek and Roman Authors	xv
Glossary	xvii
Notes on Near Eastern Sources	xix
Notes on Greek and Roman Authors	xx
Babylonian and Old Persian Calendars	xxii
Weights and Measures	xxii
Chronology of Persian Kings	xxii
Family Tree of the Persian Royal Family	xxiii
Brief Outline of the History of the Achaemenid Empire	xxiv
Map of the Persian Empire	xxvi

PART I. The Rise of Persia

Note A The Near Eastern Sources	1
Note B Herodotus' Contribution to Persian History	2
 1.1. CYRUS I
The seal and inscription of Cyrus (PFS 93) (1)	4
 1.2. THE INSCRIPTIONS OF ARIARAMNES AND ARSAMES (2-3)
Inscription of Ariaramnes from Hamadan	5
Inscription of Arsames from Hamadan	5
 1.3. CYRUS II (4-17)
Cyrus' inscription from Pasargadae, in the plain of Murghab (4)	5
The Persian tribes (5)	5
The upbringing of Cyrus (6-10)	6
The conquests of Cyrus
The Nabonidus Chronicle(11)	8
The Cyrus Cylinder (12)	10
Greek evidence for Cyrus' campaigns (13-16)	12
The tomb of Cyrus (17)	14
 1.4. CAMBYSES II (18-29)
First Babylonian document dated to the reign of Cambyses (18)	14
Documents from Egypt (19-22)
Hieroglyphic seal inscription of Cambyses (19)	14
Hieroglyphic inscription of Udjahorresnet (20)	15

Epitaph for the Apis bull interred in the Serapeum in Memphis in 524 (21)	17
Inscription on the sarcophagus of the Apis bull (22)	17
Greek evidence on the killing of the Apis bull (23)	17
Demotic document from Egypt on financial administration under Cambyses (24)	19
The African expeditions of Cambyses (25-26)	20
The death of Cambyses (27-29)	21
1.5. BARDIYA (30-42)
Bardiya, full brother of Cambyses (30-34)	22
Gaumata, calling himself Bardiya (35)	23
The 'usurper' Bardiya (36-40)	24
Babylonian documents dating Bardiya's acceptance in Babylon (41-42)	26
 PART II. The Persian Empire under the first three Achaemenid Kings
2.1. DARIUS I (43-60)
Seal and inscription of Darius (43)	27
The Bisitun Inscription (44)	27
Darius' Foundation Charter from Susa (45)	40
Inscription from Susa (46)	41
Inscription from Mount Elvand (47)	42
First inscription from Naqš-e Rostam (48)	42
Darius and Egypt (49-55)
Inscription of Darius' statue from Heliopolis, found in Susa (49)	44
Hieroglyphic inscription on the base of Darius' statue from Susa (50)	45
Epitaph for the Apis bull interred in 518 (51)	45
Stele from Red Sea Canal (52)	47
Greek evidence for the Red Sea Canal (53)	47
Hieroglyphic inscription of Udjahorresnet (54)	47
Demotic papyrus from Egypt (55)	48
Darius and Greece (56-60)	48
2.2. XERXES I (61-75)
Seal and Inscription of Xerxes from Dascylium (61)	50
Seal and Inscription of Xerxes from Egypt (62)	51
Inscription from Persepolis (63)	51
Inscription from Lake Van (64)	52
Inscription from Mount Elvand (65)	52
Babylonian document for Belšimanni (66)	52
The Median War (67-69)	53
Medising (70-72)	53
Greek evidence for the death of Xerxes (73-75)	54
2.3. ARTAXERXES I (76-93)
Inscription from Persepolis (76)	55
Inscription on a silver dish (77)	55

Vase inscription (78)	55
Documents from Egypt (79-80)	55
Greek evidence for the reign of Artaxerxes (81-90)
Accession of Artaxerxes (81)	56
Themistocles' refuge in Persia (82)	56
Revolts in Bactria and Egypt (83-88)	57
The Peace of Callias of 449/8 (89-90)	60
The death of Artaxerxes (91-93)	60

PART III. The Organisation and Administration of the Persian Empire; Religion in the Empire

Note C Persian Imperial Government	62
3.1. PERSIAN KINGSHIP (94-122)
Royal titlature (94-102)	63
The ideology of kingship
Second inscription from Naqš-e Rostam (103)	64
Darius' inscription from Persepolis (104)	65
Persian education (105-106)	66
Succession to the throne (107-108)	68
Royal residences (109)	68
Royal estates
Partetaš (110)	69
A satrap complains (111)	69
High-ranking Persian noblemen
Gobryas and Aspathines (112-115)	69
The King's Benefactors and Friends (116-120)	70
Gift-giving (121-122)	72
3.2. THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE EMPIRE (123-158)
Satrap and satrapies (123-127)	73
The pihātu (128-130)	74
The saris (131-132)	75
The peoples of the empire (133-135)	75
Tribute, gifts, and taxes (136-139)	77
High officials and workers at Persepolis
Parnaka (140-143)	79
Ziššawiš (144-146)	79
Chief of workers, law-officers and accountants (147-152)	80
The work force in Persis (153-156)	81
Special rations for mothers (157-158)	82
3.3. ROYAL WOMEN (159-180)
Documents with a female royal title (159-161)	82
Babylonian text documenting a daughter of Xerxes (162)	83
Estates of royal women (163-167)	83

Royal women and travel (168-172)	84
Workers in the service of royal women (173-175)	85
Marriage alliances (176-180)	85
 3.4. TRAVEL IN THE EMPIRE (181-190)
The Royal Roads (181-183)	86
Travel rations
Rations for individuals (184)	87
Fast messengers and élite guides (185-190)	88
 3.5. RELIGION IN THE EMPIRE (191-205)
The daiva -inscription (191)	89
Šatin and magus (192-194)	90
Evidence from Egypt
Hieroglyphic inscriptions from el-Khargeh (195-196)	91
Funerary inscription on a stele from Saqqara (197)	91
Greek evidence on Persian religion
Darius' letter to Gadatas (198)	93
Herodotus' view (199)	93
Xerxes and the Babylonian temples (200)	94
The Jews under Persian rule (201-205)
Return of the exiles from Babylon (201-204)	94
Elephantine (205)	95
 Bibliography	97
Index of Persons and Gods	100