Social Media and Society

Qihao Ji

Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group
NEW YORK AND LONDON

Contents

Preface x

PART I

1 What is social media? 3
Defining social media 5
The scope of social media 9
Changing media, changing culture 16

2 Social media users 19
Digital divide on social media 20
Psychological traits of social media users 22
Lurkers versus posters 24
Trolling and cyberbullying 26
The iGen 27
The iPhone effect 29
Motivations of social media use 30

3 Social media design and affordance 34
Affordance 37
Affordances of social media: the user's perspective 38
The influence of platform affordances on social interactions 40
Affordances of social media: the organizational perspective 42

4 Social media economy 50
Algorithm 50
Platform economy 57
The attention crisis 62

PART II

5 Social media and the self 71
Self-disclosure and self-presentation 72
Social media and identity development 77
Social media and memory 78
Selfie 79
Mourning and grieving on social media 82

6 Social media for relationship management 85
The nature of relationship 85
Stages of online relationship 86
Problematic use of social media in relationships 93
Social media in professional relationships 94

7 The use of social media among children and older adults 99
Developmental stages of children 99
YouTube for children 100
Issues about child-oriented video content 101
Child influencers 102
Virtual reality for children 106
Older adults' use of social media 108
Key Issues in older adults' use of social media 110

8 Social media for health and fitness 115
Appeals of using social media for health information 116
Issues about health-information seeking via social media 117
Trends in social media healthcare 119
Social media for fitness and exercise 122
Self-tracking 123

PART III

9 Social media for news and information sharing 133
Social media for news use 134
Echo chambers and filter bubbles 137
Fake news, misinformation, and disinformation 138
Policy and legal challenges regarding social media news consumption 143

10 Social media for social movement and political campaign 149
Defining social movement 149
How do social media support protests and movements 151
Issues regarding social-media-empowered movements 155
Social media for political campaign and election 157
Key issues in social-media-driven campaigns and elections 162

11 Social media marketing 169
Social-media-marketing triad 170
Social media influencers 175
Key issues in social-media-marketing industry 179

12 Social media entertainment and well-being 184
Types of social media entertainment 184
Defining entertainment 188
How users enjoy social media entertainment 190
From entertainment to well-being 191
The impact of social media on well-being 193

Index 200