

The Divine/Demonic Seven and the Place of Demons in Mesopotamia

By

Gina Konstantopoulos

BRILL

LEIDEN | BOSTON

Contents

Acknowledgments	IX
List of Figures and Tables	XI
Abbreviations	XII
List of Appendices	XV
Frequently Cited Texts and Their Editions	XVI

Introduction 1

Terminology and Defining the Demonic	2
Identifying the Problem	3
Case Study: Defining Magic	10
Defining Demons	13
Previous Studies and Writing the Sebettu	22
Seven as a Number of Significance	25
Overview of the Book	26

1 The Variable Nature of Demons 30

1 The Mostly Malevolent Udug	33
1.1 The Benevolent Udug	37
2 The Ambiguous Alad	40
3 The Benevolent Lamma	42
3.1 The Rarely Malevolent Lamma	47

2 Early Foundations of Literary Evidence and Cultic Use 51

1 Third Millennium References	52
2 The Sumerian Narrative of Gilgameš and Huwawa	54
2.1 Investigating and Reconstructing Fragmentary Epithets	57
2.2 Gilgameš and Huwawa B and Aratta	59
3 Lugalbanda in the Wilderness: The Torches of Inana	64
4 The Malevolent Sebettu in Old Babylonian Incantations	68
5 The Hymn to Hendursaga	73
6 Literary Tropes and the Subservience of Demons	79
7 Second Millennium Cultic Evidence	86
7.1 Cults and the South: The First Sealand Dynasty	86
7.2 Cults and the South: Kassite Babylonia	90
7.3 The Sebettu on Kudurru Inscriptions	92
7.4 Assyrian Royal Inscriptions	93
7.5 Personal Names	100

3	The Escalated Use of the Sebettu in the First Millennium	103
1	First Millennium Literary Texts	105
1.1	Erra and Išum	106
1.2	Parallel Structure: The Cuthean Legend of Narām-Sîn	118
1.3	The Birdcall Text	120
2	Expansionist Politics: The Initial Stages of the Assyrian Empire	123
2.1	Aššurnāṣirpal II (883–859 BCE)	125
2.2	Going West: Shalmaneser III (858–824 BCE)	131
3	Initial Decline	136
3.1	Adad-nārārī III (810–783 BCE)	137
3.2	Aššur-nārārī V (754–745 BCE)	139
4	Returning to Strength	143
4.1	Tiglath-Pileser III (744–727 BCE)	144
4.2	Sargon II (721–705 BCE)	146
4.3	Divine Hymns and the Sebettu	154
5	The Last Great Kings of Assyria	155
5.1	Sennacherib (704–681 BCE)	156
5.2	Esarhaddon (680–669 BCE)	160
5.3	Aššurbanipal (668–627 BCE) and After	167
6	Ritual and Cultic Connections	170
4	The Sebettu in Incantations and Household Use	178
1	The Sebettu in Incantations	179
1.1	Protecting Houses: Apotropaic Incantations and the Sebettu	182
1.2	Erra and Išum and Amulets	188
1.3	The Sebettu in Namburbi Texts	191
1.4	Incantations and the King	193
2	The Sebettu and the Udug Hul Incantation Series	197
2.1	The Sebettu Terrorize Society—Tablets XIII–XV	203
2.2	Individual Imagery	207
2.3	Terrifying Radiance: the Me-Lim₄/Melammu of the Sebettu	210
3	Malevolence and Benevolence: A Survey of the Incantations as a Whole	212
5	Iconography and the Pleiades	213
1	The Behavior of the Pleiades	214
2	Astral Imagery and the Pleiades	217
3	Iconography and Representations of the Sebettu	234
4	Seals and the Pleiades	238

Conclusion: Concerning Demons	248
Appendix A: Comparative Epithets of the Sebetu	259
Appendix B: Birds, Deities, and Cries in the Birdcall Text	261
Appendix C: Textual Attestations to the Sebetu	263
Appendix D: Star Maps	290
Appendix E: Catalogue of Cylinder Seals	297
Works Cited	298
Index of Deities and Divine Beings	339
Index of Persons	342
Index of Ancient Sources	344
General Index	353