

Contents

	Citation Information	ix
	Notes on Contributors	xi
	Introduction—Esteem and influence: soft power in international politics Giulio M. Gallarotti	1
1	The crisis of American soft power David W. Kearns	15
2	The Smithsonian’s soft power: how foreigners engage the US national museum Irene S. Wu	33
3	Soft power’s dark side Renée Marlin-Bennett	55
4	From circulating liberalism to tech nationalism: U.S. soft power and Silicon Valley Burcu Baykurt	74
5	The impact of Russian soft power in Kazakhstan : creating an enabling environment for cooperation between Nur-Sultan and Moscow Victoria Hudson	87
6	Pedagogical offensives: soft power, higher education and foreign policy Giulio M. Gallarotti	113
7	Impact of environmental quality indicators on soft power: a few empirical estimates Sergio R. Vale and Moises S. Marques	132
8	Testing the impact of geopolitics on European democratic countries’ soft power use Judit Trunkos	150

9	In search of soft power: mapping the expert community with a bibliometric network analysis Alina V. Vladimirova	174
	Index	191