The Hindu Religious Tradition

A New Historical, Anthropological, and Philological Approach

Second edition

Thomas J. Hopkins and
Graham M. Schweig

Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group
LONDON AND NEW YORK

Contents

	Illustrations	vii
	Preface	ix
	Acknowledgements	xiii
	Introduction	1
1	The Beginnings of Indian Culture: Languages and Tribes	6
2	The First Indian Villages and Cities	32
3	Indus Valley Religion: Exploring the Remains of India's First Urban Culture	56
4	Post-Urban Indian Cultures Prior to the Āryans	88
5	The Foundations of the Hindu Synthesis of Āryan and Non-Āryan Religion	111
6	Early Vedic Religion	134
7	The Āraṇyakas and Upaniṣads	162
8	Āryans and Dravidians	182
9	The Development of Non-Vedic India	203
10	Challenges and Changes: The Persians and Greeks Enter India	236
11	The New Brahmanical Synthesis: Yoga, Theism, and Āśrama	258
12	Indo-Greeks and Synthesis in the Hindu Epics	283
13	Śakas, Sātavāhanas, and the Early Purāṇas	303

14 Kushāns, Guptas, and the Emergence of Hindu Theism 325

15 The Continuing Hindu Tradition 348

Appendix 376
Index 380

Illustrations

Figures

0.1 Tom and I in Tom's study at his home in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, on July 11, 2018 x
0.2 Tom was invited by me to be a keynote speaker at a conference I organized at Harvard University in the Spring of 2015 xi
1.1 Śiva as the divine yogi 29
2.1 "Foot-profile" figurine from Tell Halaf, Syria, ca. 5900 BCE 40
2.2 Inanna/Ishtar and her lion on an Akkadian cylinder seal, ca. 2200 BCE 43
2.3 Luristan bronze pinhead with central figure and serpents 51
3.1 "Unicorn" and "brazier" 73
3.2 The "Proto-Śiva" seal 74
3.3 Durgā and the water-buffalo demon, a relief on the Vaital Deul temple in Orissa (Odisha) from the late eighth century CE 79
9.1 Daimabad bronzes: man on chariot 205
10.1 Mauryan Period urban terracotta goddess figurine, ca. 300–200 BCE 242
10.2 North India ringstone sculpture, 1st–2nd century BCE 245
10.3 "Porus Medallion" issued in Babylon ca. 323 BCE, near to Alexander's death 250
12.1 Coin of Antiochus IV (175–164 BCE) with titles THEOS EPIPHANOS and NIKEPHOROS 300
14.1 Two Kushān men placing garlands on a lingam; from Mathurā, ca. 2nd century CE 332
15.1 Bṛhadīśvara temple to Śiva at Thanjavur (Tanjore) in Tamil Nadu, South India, built in the eleventh century by Raja Raja Chola I; the garbhagṛha is the lower domed building on the left, and the taller building is the mandapa in which public ceremonies are performed 361

Maps

1.1 South Asia physical features 11
11.1 India in the second century CE: the Kushān Empire under Kanishka, the Western Satraps in the Sindh and Malwā, and the territory of the Andhra-based Sātavāhanas 262