

Adrian George

The Curator's Handbook

New edition

Museums

Commercial Galleries

Independent Spaces

Introduction	1
What is a curator?	2
The different types of curator (subject specialist, collection-based, independent, artist, head of department)	6
Why is curating flourishing today?	12
The curator as catalyst or conduit for ideas	15
The curator as author, editor and critic	18
Routes into curatorial practice	20
Work placements and internships	23
The first rung on the ladder	25
The curator as judge	26
Who is this book aimed at?	28
Chapter 1: Starting Off	31
Ideas and inspirations	32
Funder or sponsor's agenda	37
Types of exhibition	40
Curating an art-fair stand	51
Chapter 2: From Idea to Reality	59
How to turn good ideas into real exhibitions	60
The exhibition outline document	62
Refining the theme of your show and compiling a list of works	64
Space planning	68
Touring opportunities	70
Chapter 3: Proposals, Pitching and Planning	73
Targeting an initial proposal	75
Making your exhibition pitch	79

Securing touring venues	85
Exhibitions, the environment and sustainability	89
Proposal documents / exhibition planning	92
Data protection	94
Working with other curators / external curators / you as external curator	96
 Chapter 4: Budgets and Fundraising	 99
How to put together a realistic budget	100
Sticking to a budget	104
Financial accountability	110
Funding / sponsorship / sponsorship in kind	111
Identifying and persuading sponsors	114
Charitable trusts and foundations	116
Touring agreements and fees (selling exhibitions / borrowing exhibitions)	118
 Chapter 5: Contracts, Negotiations, Obligations and Evaluations	 123
Contracts with institutions, commercial galleries and other organizations	124
Provenance, restitution and the right to lend	126
Evaluations / visitor surveys	133
Exhibition fees and what a curator should charge	137
Scheduling an exhibition	139
 Chapter 6: Exhibition Publications & Merchandise	 145
Deciding to produce a catalogue or book for the show	146
A publications team	149
Producing a booklet or pamphlet	150

Commissioning, editing and writing texts	151
Picture collection, copyright, courtesy lines and clearance	156
Graphic design	161
Overseeing printing and production	163
Distribution and promotion	167
Merchandise design	169

Chapter 7: Putting a Show Together 173

The venue and its architecture	174
Commercial spaces: the curator as gallerist / dealer	177
Exhibition design using CAD, scale models and walking the space	179
Sequencing your gallery spaces and works of art	183
How long will the visitor spend in your exhibition?	184
Technology and new media	186
Black box spaces	190
Building walls	193
Wall colours	195
Display furniture	197
Space and visitor access	200
Barriers	201
Health & safety	203
Letters of request	206
Facilities reports	210
Negotiating with artists and lenders	212
Working with artists on commissions	213
Working with artists on solo exhibitions	216
Working with artists as part of a group exhibition	218
Working with a registrar	219
What the registrar needs to know	221
Insurance / indemnity	223
Loan agreements and special conditions	224

Shipping	225
When the art arrives	228
Documenting the exhibition process	231

Chapter 8: The Weeks Before the Opening 237

Interpretation material (wall labels and panels, leaflets and exhibition guides)	238
Writing the press release	242
Private view invitations	244
Maintaining mailing lists	250
Planning other pre-opening events	251
Working with a press and PR agency	253

Chapter 9: Installation 265

Art handling	266
Installation schedule and looking at works in situ	271
Signing off the layout	272
Fixing the works to the wall	273
Lighting	276
Education, event spaces and resource areas	282
Live art events	286
Public liability insurance	291

Chapter 10: The Days Before Opening and the Opening Day 295

Final adjustments	296
Staff briefings	296
Security issues	297

Chapter 11: The Press Opening and Private View 309

The press view and interviews: the curator
as spokesperson for the exhibition 311
Organizing the PV 317
Making speeches 320
Giving tours 322

Chapter 12: During – and After – the Exhibition 329

Documenting your exhibition 330
Scheduling regular tasks during the run of the exhibition 331
Following up enquiries and building your network 333
Taking down the show and returning artworks 333
Assessing success and learning from your mistakes 335

Afterword: The Future of Curatorial Practice 339

Notes 352
Index 363