

Global Governance and Interaction between International Institutions

Eurasian International Organizations in the World Politics and Economy

Edited by Alexander Libman and Anastassia Obydenkova

Contents

Citation Information	vii
Notes on Contributors	ix
Introduction—Global governance and interaction between international institutions: the challenge of the Eurasian international organizations Alexander Libman and Anastassia Obydenkova	1
1 Geopolitical games in Eurasian regionalism: ideational interactions and regional international organisations Vladimir S. Izotov and Anastassia V. Obydenkova	4
2 The Eurasian Economic Union: keeping up with the EU and China Ann-Sophie Gast	29
3 The Eurasian Economic Union: integration without liberalisation? Rilka Dragneva and Christopher A. Hartwell	54
4 Russia in international economic institutions: are there contradictions in the regional and global agendas? Mikhail Golovnin and Daria Ushkalova	76
5 Eurasian regionalism and the WTO: a building block or a stumbling stone? Alexander Libman	100
6 Interaction of Eurasian and international financial institutions Evgeny Vinokurov	119
7 NATO vs. the CSTO: security threat perceptions and responses to secessionist conflicts in Eurasia Farid Guliyev and Andrea Gawrich	137
8 Competitiveness through new industrialisation in the EAEU Viachaslau Yarashevich	159

9	Moving towards developmental regionalism? Industrial cooperation in the Eurasian Economic Union from an Armenian and Belarusian perspective Julia Eder	185
	Conclusion—Global governance and Eurasian international organisations: lessons learned and future agenda Alexander Libman and Anastassia V. Obydenkova	213
	Index	233