

An Introduction to War Studies

Edited by

Michael S. Goodman

Professor of Intelligence and International Affairs, Department of War Studies, King's College London, UK

Rachel Kerr

Professor of War and Society, Department of War Studies, King's College London, UK

Matthew Moran

Professor of International Security, Department of War Studies, King's College London, UK

Edward Elgar
PUBLISHING

Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

List of contributors	vii
Foreword Sir Lawrence Freedman	xvii
Preface and acknowledgements	xix
1 War Studies at King's College London James Gow, Sir Lawrence Freedman and Rachel Kerr	1
2 Conflict resolution in deeply divided societies Stacey Gutkowski, Michael Kerr and Craig Larkin	15
3 Conflict, Security and Development Mats Berdal	36
4 History of War Alan James	53
5 Intelligence and international security Huw Dylan and David Easter	65
6 International conflict studies: critical perspectives on conflict and security Vivienne Jabri, Leonie Ansems de Vries, Kiran Phull and Stephan Engelkamp	78
7 International peace and security James Gow, Natasha Kuhrt and Maria Varaki	96
8 International Relations and War: complexity, interdisciplinarity and analytical plurality Pablo de Orellana	110
9 International Relations today: a long list of theories! Mervyn Frost	124
10 National Security Studies John Gearson, Hillary Briffa and Joe Devanny	136

11	Science and international security Hassan Elbahtimy and Filippa Lentzos	153
12	Strategic Communications: shaping a new century Neville Bolt	170
13	Terrorism, security and society Shiraz Maher and Alexander Meleagrou-Hitchens	183
14	War Studies Online David Banks, David Easter and Anne-Lucie Norton	198
15	War Studies Jan Willem Honig	208
	Index	221