

DAVID KEREKES & DAVID SLATER

CANNIBAL ERROR

ANTI-FILM PROPAGANDA AND
THE 'VIDEO NASTIES' PANIC OF THE 1980s

HEADPRESS

Contents

	PREFACE
vi	A Note on Film Titles Acknowledgements Why 'Cannibal Error'?
2	BEGINNINGS
	'TIME MARCHES ON!'
34	UNEASE
	'AN ORGY OF COMMERCIALISM'
60	CLAMPDOWN
	'PRIVATELY FUNDED BY INDIVIDUALS AND CHURCHES'
92	SIEGE
	'DRAINING THE BLOOD OF THE INNOCENT!'
100	BLACK MARKET & PIRATES
	'HARD TO FIND RARITIES'
142	THE BIG INFLUENCE
	'WHO SUPPORTS VIOLENT FILMS NOW?'
196	SEX & WRECKS
	'AT THE LEAST PROVOCATION'
224	THE DPP39
	'SCENES OF EXTREME AND EXPLICIT VIOLENCE'
	APPENDIX
440	A miscellany of rejected video works, 1990–Present
449	Two interviews with independent video distributors
461	Two interviews with the BBFC
484	Anatomy of a raid
490	The 'video nasties' – Where are they now?
526	"You can't run all these machines off the standard mains"
530	Black market mailing list
531	Sources: Bibliography Periodicals Websites
534	Notes
577	Index