

Iran and Global Decolonisation

Politics and Resistance after Empire

Edited by

Firoozeh Kashani-Sabet and Robert Steele

Contents

Introduction: Iran and Global Decolonisation Firoozeh Kashani-Sabet and Robert Steele	1
1. The ‘Bridge of Victory’: The Allied Occupation of Iran and its Consequences Firoozeh Kashani-Sabet	29
2. Trauma and Decolonisation: The Sultanabad (Arak) Camp, German Espionage, and the Allied Occupation of Iran during the Second World War Pardis Minuchehr	65
3. Iranian Oil Nationalisation as Decolonisation: Historiographical Reflections, Global History, and Postcolonial Theory Mattin Biglari	101
4. Iran and the Dominican Republic, 1958–1961: Trade and Intelligence Cooperation during Leland Rosemberg’s Mission to Tehran Fernando Camacho Padilla	135
5. Iran’s Foreign Policy and the Algerian War of Independence, 1954–1962 Thomas Bédrède	165
6. Iranians and the Vietnam War: Cold Warrior Enmities or Anti-Colonial Solidarities? Arash Azizi	199
7. Iran and the Ogaden War, 1977–1978 Robert Steele	237

8. Global Civil Rights in Iran: Race, Gender, and Poverty Firoozeh Kashani-Sabet	273
9. Red Star Over Iran: Maoism and the Shah's Regime William Figueroa	313
10. Radical Voices from within the Metropolis: Decolonisation and the Iranian Left in Europe, 1957–1967 Leonard Willy Michael	345
11. Fighting for an Islamic Liberation Theology: Iranian Intellectuals and Global Decolonisation Javier Gil Guerrero	375
12. The 'International Family': The Organisation of Iranian People's Fada'i (Majority) and the 'Anti-Imperial World' in the Age of National Liberation Carson Kahoe	401
Picture Sources	437
Contributors	441