

George Cupcea

Latin Inscriptions from the Legionary Fortress of Apulum

Wien 2024

CONTENTS

1. Preface — Acknowledgements	9
2. Introduction	11
2.1 The establishment and organisation of Dacia.....	11
2.2 A brief history of Apulum.....	12
2.3 Recent excavations in the camp of legio XIII Gemina	17
3. Principia . The administrative and religious centre of the castra legionis XIII Geminae	19
3.1 Entrance.....	25
Building inscription (Nr. 1)	25
Ceremonial altar (Nr. 2)	27
Serapis, the emperor, and the Roman army	28
Serapis and Caracalla on the Danube.....	30
Isiac cults in Apulum	31
The Serapis sanctuary in the principia of Apulum: date and dedicator.....	31
Final remarks: Veneration of Serapis in the principia	33
Appendix I : Building inscriptions dedicated to Serapis on the Danube frontier of the Roman Empire by the military or governing elite	34
3.2 Courtyard.....	36
A statue base for the Imperial Family (Nr. 3)	36
The monument	39
The names and titles of the Imperial Family.....	40
The date.....	42
The dedicators	43
Parallels.....	48
Conclusion	50
Appendix II : Main parallels for the collective statue base of the Severan Imperial Family	51
A statue base for Julia Domna (Nr. 4)	54
Julia Domna: Titulature and ideological role.....	55
Statues for Julia Domna in the military camps of Dacia: Analysis of the standardized inscription	56
Appendix III : Statue bases of Julia Domna alone, in Dacia	59

Appendix IV: Inscriptions with the epithet Antoniniana, precisely datable under Caracalla, in Dacia	60
Dedication of a tetrastylum and a silver eagle by a primus pilus (Nr. 5)	62
Trecenarius	64
The primus pilus and his dedication.....	66
Tetrastylum and aquila	67
4. Basilica	75
A hexagonal statue base for Caracalla (Nr. 6)	75
The emperor and his concise titulature	76
The shape and significance of the monument	78
Appendix V: Statue bases of Caracalla in Dacia	81
5. Around the aedes	85
Altar and statue to Mars (Nr. 7)	85
‘ aram et signum Martis ’	86
The emperor	88
The governor.....	91
Equites legionis	93
Officers, training and the exercitatores	95
The dedicator.....	98
Iconography. Equipment of the legionary cavalry	99
Conclusions.....	101
Appendix VI: Inscriptions mentioning the dedication of an altar and/or a statue, in Apulum	103
Appendix VII: Inscriptions using the contracted title of an emperor in a building/dedicatory context	103
Appendix VIII: Inscriptions with multiple titles to the governor (leg. Aug. pr. pr./leg., dux, praeses)	104
Appendix IX: Inscriptions of P. Furius Saturninus	106
Plate with a centurion list (Nr. 8)	108
The centurions.....	110
6. Armamentaria	113
A small statue base for the Genius armamentarii? (Nr. 9)	113
Collega in the army	114
The rank and position of Valerius Valerianus.....	116
7. Inscriptions discovered in other parts of the legionary camp	123
Praetentura dextra: an altar for Genius centuriae (Nr. 10)	123
Genius centuriae	125

Monuments of the cult	125
Dedicators	127
Associated deities.....	128
The optio	130
The altar in Apulum	131
Retentura dextra : inscriptions from the carcer (Nr. 11–13)	141
Altar to Nemesis (Nr. 11)	142
Statue of Nemesis (Nr. 12)	142
Votive relief to Mars (Nr. 13)	144
Nemesis and the army	145
The dedicators	146
Places and occasions of dedications to Nemesis by soldiers	150
Conclusion: the carcer in the legionary camp at Apulum	152
Porta principalis dextra : a soldier list and Elagabalus (Nr. 14–15)	159
The soldier list — AE 2007, 1198 (Nr. 14)	160
The name and titles of Elagabalus — AE 2009, 1197 (Nr. 15)	164
The gravestone of a hastatus (Nr. 16)	167
Appendix X: Centurions hastati in Dacia.....	172
8. An inventory of earlier epigraphic discoveries from the legionary camp.....	173
9. Epilogue	187
Epigraphic culture of the principia in Apulum	187
From limestone to marble: material culture and change under the Severans	188
Historical context of change: municipium Septimium	189
Imperial visits in Dacia	190
10. Illustration list.....	195
11. Tables and appendices.....	196
12. Abbreviations	197
13. Bibliography	199
14. Indices	223